REGATTA WRAP-UP

This year's regatta was only the 28th, despite publicity to the contrary (see back page), and it was a goodie. The weather was cooler than usual, which encouraged a lot more participation in everything from ski racing to dancing. You can judge for yourself from the activities pictured in the newsletter centerfold. Should bring back some good memories for the participants and hopefully encourage other Campbell owners to join us next year.

We started out on Friday night with the traditional "Burgers, Beer and Boats" party at the Campbell facility. The Famous Unknowns, a local band, got everyone up and going with some great music and the "libation ladies" seemed to do a pretty steady business as well.

Then on Saturday we moved to the Nautical Inn for the competitive events. Those who ran early in the ski race had almost perfect conditions - no wind, no wakes. A gentle breeze did come up around the time of the Poker Run around 11, but it sure didn't bother Steve Parker and Gary Clark, who came up with the best and worst hands. Barb Peckman had the one and only Black Jack hand.

Get in line for the 4 Wheel Drive Trip. And don't be late to the Klambake or, like Bob, Klaus and Ilona, you'll be left out in the rain with only a partial lobster!

Again this year the Parkers and friends provided a great carne asada lunch on the beach, followed by the Saturday Slalom. Results of all competitive events and the boat parade are on inserts in this newsletter.

It is always hard to imagine that boats which were running the race course at 4 can be completely transformed for the Boat Parade at 6. As always the judges enjoyed the various interpretations of the "TV Shows" theme, as well as the substantial bribes. Their choices were as follows:

Honorable Mention-Costumes - Bob and Mimi Richardson's WAKEMAKER with what the judges termed a "Baywatch Gone Bad" theme in which the real beauties were accompanied by burly blonde "girlies" with tattoos.

Best Costumes went to Kermit Larby's WHAT BOAT with the silver costumed Power Rangers and their aluminum blown power plant.

Honorable Mention-Decorations - went to Rick and Allie Otterstrom in WHAT ME WORRY. They also had a Baywatch theme, and the judges felt that Allie was the only decoration needed.

Best Decorated went to Cap and Barb (Fred and Wilma) Peckham's A WEAKIE, which was invisible behind the logs of the Flintstone's Bedrock.

Honorable Mention - Theme - STREAKER with Eric Albrethsen and Robert Donahue as two of the Three Stooges.

Best Theme - Brad and Beth Rigger's BORN READY had been wrapped in rattan and transformed into Gilligan's Island, with appropriate characters.

Honorable Mention - Spirit - The Happy Days SUMMER LOVE with Rick and Johnna Howard and crew in 50's poodle skirts, etc.

Best Spirit - The judges decided the award title was a perfect match for Justin Luther's SWIZZLE STICK as Cheers, with the gang assembled around the bar.

After the parade we reassembled at the Nautical Convention Center for a baron of beef dinner, awards and dancing. Some parade participants continued in character: the "girls" from WAKEMAKER refused to take off their blond wigs, "Ginger" was Ginger all evening, and Fred Flinstone tried to make off with the beef bone.

Sunday featured the Extended Slalom and the renamed "Powerpuff" with lots of participants in lots of different boats. And after everything finished, there was an after-party party upriver. Bob and I missed this as we had to take off for a Sister City trip to Guadalajara as the ex-mayor of our sister city is now Governor of the State of Jalisco and we were invited to watch the Independence Day festivities from his Presidential Palace. We stood on a balcony next to "Beto" as he led 100,000 rain-soaked but enthusiastic Tapatios in cries of "Viva Mexico!" and the party began. It was quite an experience, but we hate to miss any part of the Regatta weekend. Hey, we can all do it again on September 7th, 8th, & 9th, 2001!

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

I really enjoyed this year's regatta-good participation, good weather, and good food.

Judy and I met recently with Jack and Eve Skinner, the General Manager and Sales Manager, respectively, of the Nautical Inn. I am pleased to be able to tell you that the 2001 Regatta (theme: commercials) will again be at the Nautical. We had some misunderstandings this year, but I believe we have worked them all out. The Nautical was unaware of the total number of rooms, condos, etc. that were used by Regatta participants.

Here are the rules for next year:

(1) To get the special Campbell Regatta room rate, you will need to book 45 days before the event. This is not as bad as it sounds, since you can cancel with no penalty up to 72 hours before the event.

(2) To park your boat at the Nautical overnight, you must have a room booked and get a boat permit at the registration desk.

Nothing we can't live with and I'm already looking forward to our other activities; the 4 wheel drive trip, boat parade and, of course, the Klambake—see you soon!
